

DIRECTORY

The current directory utilizes color coding, yet does not demonstrate the complex network of elevators and dead-ends within the architecture of the building. Level-specific directories would orient patient locations, while specifically demonstrating destination routes from that given location.

